The Name With a Meaning

Athena Underwear

Athena was a Greek divinity idolized by Homer as the most beautiful woman that ever lived.

So Athena knit underwear comes rightfully by this name. It is beautiful. It has style, fit, comfort, warmth without bulk, and above all else, quality.

Until Athena underwear was perfected, ill fitting garments, hanging loosely upon the figure and in wrinkles, were every woman's distraction and a serious handicap to the modiste.

Athena Underwear has made women appreciate this fact, comfort in underwear is no less essential than style correctness in outer attire.

Athena Underwear true to its name, shows successful effort towards something more than mere warmth. It is scaled on a system of actual measurements, clothes the body perfectly, fits with the smoothness of a stocking.

There are too many of these points of merit to be told in this limited space. We want women to see these garments. It will be well worth a few moments spent in our underwear section.

We welcome the opportunity the new clinging, close fitting garments give us to show how essential is the smooth, perfect fitting Athena Underwear to the women desirous of style as well as comfort.

Advice to Fraternal Members.

The present epidemic has awakened members of insurance orders to the fact that assessments must be paid up to date, otherwise no benefits are received. Dr. Emma E. Bower, Great Record Keeper of the L. O. T. M. M., reports certificates and assessments received lately from many members who stand suspended. Other societies give similar statements. Keep up your assessments, is good advice.

ANOTHER SCORELESS TIE

For the second time this fall the Alma and Ithaca high school football teams fought it out to a scoreless tie, once on the Ithaca field, and last Friday on Davis field. The game Friday was for the interscholastic championship of central Michigan and it was a serious disappointment to the home boys that they were unable to prove their superiority over the Ithacans by a decisive defeat. Wood for the Alma eleven did stellar work in his open field running, while Kress was also fast and in the game at all times. Gargett as fullback, hit the heavy Ithaca line hard but was unable to puncture their defense for large gains. The Ithacans outweighed the local team considerably but were not so fast. There were several fluky plays at critical times, the majority of which favored Alma. A final game will be arranged if possible.
